

SET TO SIZZLE

Wilfred Emmanuel-Jones makes fantastic sausages and, quite deservedly, has won several awards. Interestingly, he is the only Afro-Caribbean known to be working in British farming. A Channel 4 documentary, to be shown early this year, follows the launch of The Black Farmer Scholarship, an initiative offering 17- to 21-year-olds from ethnic minority groups who are living in the inner cities a chance to work in the country under Wilfred's guidance. The Black Farmer Premium Pork Sausages, and Pork & Leek Sausages, £2.95 for 400g, from Tesco, Sainsbury's, ASDA, Budgens and Morrisons.
