

Emmanuel-Jones joins NOBs

Wilfred Emmanuel-Jones has become a patron of the National Organisation of Beaters and Pickers-Up. NOBs chief executive, Mark Elliot commented: "I am delighted to be able to announce that Wilfred Emmanuel-Jones, or more commonly known as the Black Farmer has very kindly agreed to become one of our patrons."

"Wilfred's story is one of inspiration to us all, he is passionate about the countryside and equally passionate about encouraging youngsters from all backgrounds to know the joys of our countryside."

Wilfred commented: "I was thrilled to be asked to be a patron of NOBs. I hope that over the coming months and years we will be able to promote our countryside to a wider audience. There is much work to be done and I am convinced that NOBs and my fellow patrons will really be able to make a difference, not only getting more people to beat and pick-up, but to help shoot owners and gamekeepers."
